

Corbyn's Cove Beach

A splendid beach embedded with beautiful coconut trees along the shoreline. This is one of the most occupied beaches in Andaman's and is located around 8 km away from the heart of Port Blair city. This beautiful beach is a charmer irrespective of being crowded, the amazing blue waters on one side and the coconut trees on the other is a visual treat!

Cellular Jail ("Kala Pani")

A dark reminiscence of the British rule in the Indian subcontinent located in the heart of the city. This most dreaded and gruelling colonial prison situated in the remote archipelago was used by the British particularly to exile Indian political prisoners. Witnessed the most atrocious punishments imposed on prisoners.

Wandoor Beach

Situated in the quaint village of Wandoor, a small village in the tip of southern Andamans and is 19 kilometers away from Port Blair. The beach itself is located at a remote place, which had to be reached by driving through lone roads that take you through the forests. The trip to the beach is amazing because you are occasionally greeted by sudden jump of wide blue sea, visible from between the forest canopy.

Jolly Buoy Island

Offers some of the clearest shallow coral reefs, clear waters, a perfect introduction to the islands' natural beauty. You can enjoy underwater views and beginner-friendly snorkelling here. The site follows strict eco-tourism rules.

Red Skin Island

The island's name 'Red Skin' derived from the extraordinary sight of red coral that adorns the coastline during low tides. It's a heart-stirring spectacle that has left countless visitors in awe and continues to be the centre of attraction, lending the island its unique identity. A sight to behold, the island is surrounded by crystal-clear turquoise water. It doesn't stop there! From colourful tropical fishes, such as clownfish and angelfish, to larger marine life like sea turtles and dugongs, the island's waters are teeming with biodiversity.

Chidiyatapu

Spot where you can catch sight of one of the most stunning sunset ever! The beach still has the remains of the trees that were uprooted during the 2004 Tsunami on the shore. The coastline is amazing and beautiful during the sunset, the changing sky colors are a visual treat.

Ross Island (Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose Island)

Erstwhile known as a Penal Colony serves as an intriguing historical record of the British era. Sombre reminder of the hardships endured by Indians during that time. Witness meticulously recreated establishments from their homeland, (a church, the majestic Government House, the Chief Commissioner's house, a quaint tennis court, a ballroom, a hospital, a printing press and a bakery), deer Park. Offers a journey into the past with the mesmerising light and sound show.

North Bay Island

The beach is white sand and shaded by dense tropical trees, most famous for water sports. Personally praised by Sea Walk experts for the perfect underwater experience. Offers Parasailing, dolphin Glass Bottom Boat Rides, coral safari.

Mount Harriet (Mount Manipur)

Initially a reserve forest which was later converted into a national park in 1979. Offers peaceful trekking trails, bird watching (home to more than 90 species of birds. Among the most notable are the Andaman wood pigeon (the state bird of Andaman).

Baratang

Famous for its natural wonders; from impressive Limestone Caves and dense mangrove creeks, Mud Volcano, the only known kind in India. Hidden beach gem named Baludera Beach offering warm green and blue waters, boat rides.

Diglipur

The largest town in North Andaman Islands, visited mostly for its exclusive beaches (Lamia Bay Beach, Kalipur Beach), forests rich in greenery, and landscapes of breathtaking beauty. The atmosphere here is ideal for a casual walk. Offers trekking at Saddle Peak National Park to witness the exceptional landscape that surrounds the park.

Ross and Smith Islands

Two islands connected by a natural sandbar, which is the most unique feature of these islands and can be seen only during low tide. Allows visitors to walk from one island to the other, and you feel as if you are treading across the ocean floor which makes it a distinct and memorable experience. Carries the remnants of British colonial structures, harbour rich coral reefs.

Radhanagar Beach (Beach No. 7) Havelock

Island

Given the title of the best beach in Asia and the 7th best beach in the world by TIME Magazine in 2004, with prestigious blue flag certification. A tranquil beach with a panoramic view of vast stretches of white sands backed by turquoise waters, coconut trees, and mangrove trees giving one the feeling of walking through a tropical jungle. Offers, Neil's Cove, a pristine lagoon.

Neil Island (Vegetable bowl of the Andaman Islands)

Known for its vibrant festivals and celebrations (Ossuary Feast, reflecting the islanders' close connection to nature and agriculture). Beaches named after Ramayana characters (Bharatpur Beach, Sitapur Beach, Laxmanpur Beach, Ramnagar Beach) offers incredible sunset views, dense mangrove ecosystem. During low tide, a natural bridge called "Howrah Bridge" (named after the iconic bridge in Kolkata) emerges, adding to the charm of the Sitapur beach.

Flag Point (Tiranga Memorial Park)

The exact spot where Netaji Subash Chandra Bose hoisted the Indian flag for the first time in Indian soil on the 30th December 1943. This flag pole stands proud and tall and the Indian flag continues to flutter gracefully. Offers a tangible connection to the past and it is an emotional experience for anyone interested in the historical context of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

Joggers Park

A small hill, offering a panoramic view of the city and the sea. One of the best spots to watch flights landing and taking off from Veer Savarkar International Airport. Stunning sunrise, sunset, and city-light views.

Veer Savarkar Park (A Tribute to Freedom Fighters)

The park displays a good collection of statues of our freedom fighters (sculptures and plaques narrating the stories of prominent freedom fighters) and thus, you can surely witness the pride of the past here. Its landscaped gardens and tranquil environment also offer a place for relaxation.

Lalaji Bay Beach- The Jewel of Long Island

The most picturesque beaches of Middle Andaman. A long stretch of white sand hugged by coconut trees. Witness dolphins playing near the coast – a magical experience. Every wave, every mangrove, every golden sandgrain has a story to tell. Whether it's the thrill of water sports, the serenity of mangroves, or the joy of interacting with local communities, Lalaji Bay ensures memories that last a lifetime.